

ADVANCED LEVEL

Altitud: 5100m.a.s.l.

For those short on time who want to get some glacier experience, Mateo offers a great one-day mountaineering adventure! Accessible to novice climbers, Mateo is part of the Contrahierbas mastiff located in Ulta valley. Climbers will enjoy great views from the summit. Mateo is a great outing for all trekkers and climbers with who are in good physical condition.

We will leave Huaraz around 3.00 am in private transportation in route to the province of Carhuaz, where we will enter the beautiful valley of Ulta and climb up to Punta Olimpica. We will be able to see the highest tunnel in the world, at 4700 m. After a short break we will prepare the equipment to Summit Mateo (5100 m). From the summit, you will be able to observe some of the tallest mountains of Peru, including South Huascarán, Chopicalqui, Ulta, among others. From the summit we will descend back down to the road and return to Huaraz in the afternoon.
